Twinning with St. Patrick's Parish

SUNDAY - January 21, 2024

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

Pope Francis declared this as Sunday of the Word of God, and it is also the beginning of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity! Word of God Sunday aligns well with Jesus who, in today's Gospel, presents us with his platform. It is part of the beginning of Mark's Gospel. Jesus appears on the scene. He does not have much to say, but in the little he does say it is not difficult to detect a tone of urgency: the time is fulfilled; the Kingdom of God has come near; repent and believe in the Good News. Something significant is happening. "And if we take the dust of these Gospel words, kingdom, and repentance, then we will discover Jesus providing us with a new perspective. With this perspective, those deeply human values such as being married, our family, social responsibilities, and mourning take on a new depth.

If we want to know what the Kingdom of God means, then we should not go to dictionaries or books of theology, but rather to Jesus himself, who as no other has given concrete shape to that Kingdom. He has not just talked about it. He has done it. The Gospels are full of it. The Kingdom of God happened when little people who were burdened with their sinfulness, with their confusion, with their pains and uncertainties, upon meeting Jesus experience how they are being given back to themselves. They can live again with freedom and dignity. This is the Kingdom of God.

But that Kingdom of God still happens among us. It depends on us, to the extent that we let ourselves be won over by Jesus' way of dealing with life, by his way of interacting with people. That is what Jesus calls for when he says: "repent and believe the Good News." That is not something negative or depressing. On the contrary, it suggests that we dare to live from another logic than what the world preaches, because that logic holds that you fend for yourself and the heck with everyone else. That logic leads to loneliness and rivalry and is a dead-end-street, not to mention tittering on the edge of global war. But the logic to which Jesus summons us in the words "repent and believe the Good News" is a logic that has something foolish about it, because it operates from the premise in that service to others and solidarity with them lead to a new life; it is a logic that accepts that others in their need have a right to disturb us in our comfort.

My friends, we hear Jesus' invitation "Come follow me," each day as life presents us with choices. Shall we forgive when asked? Shall we help someone in need? Shall we buy less for ourselves and give more to the poor? Shall we see injustice or turn a blind eye? In these, and so many other occasions, we hear the same invitation Jesus made to those fishermen and like them, we put considerations aside to follow him. We need to be mindful of our words and actions. We must encourage each other to always use words that nurture and gestures which heal. If we act out of compassion rather than indifference, out of understanding rather than disdain, out of kindness rather than selfishness, we will indeed bring about the fullness of the kingdom of God.

Happy Word of God Sunday

Father William

January 28th celebrates the Feast Day of the 13th century Dominican friar, St Thomas Aquinas, whose moral and theological thought underlay the "Natural Law", the foundation of Catholic belief. We have three copies of his biography by G K Chesterton. Chesterton is brilliant, but not an easy read and It may be better to skip his lengthy introductory chapter and proceed directly to the edifying and varied life of this international medieval scholar. It is Thomas who gave us the cautionary reminder that "it is a sin to withhold a compliment". Earlier in the month on the 17th is the Feast Day of St

Anthony, "the patron saint of lost things" --- wise to keep on the best side of him --- these white-haired days. See the Suggestion Shelf in the Parish Library

Prayer Reflection

Community takes transformation. Being people of communion requires metanoia that results from encounter and dialogue.

—Sister Nicole Trahan, F.M.I.

Far from being a demand to feel lousy about our screw-ups, metanoia invites us to radically transform the way we perceive others, ourselves, and the world.

—David Anderson

Metanoia invites us to meet all situations, however unfair, with understanding and an empathetic heart.

—Father Ronald Rolheiser, O.M.I.

At last, I have found my vocation: My vocation is love.

—Saint Thérèse of Lisieux

Word of the Week:

Metanoia

Greek word in the New Testament translated as "change of mind" or "change of heart." It corresponds with the Old Testament word for repentance and the Latin conversio, turning or returning, from which derives the idea of conversion. Turning is key, assuming we have lost our way or gone off course.

The willingness to change is a crucial ingredient in a life of integrity. On the journey through the years, we will all be confused or misdirected and swerve off the path of truth. Metanoia is the much-needed spiritual course correction. Consider metanoia the vital summons to recalculate where we're headed and what needs to change for us to get there. From the Catechism of the Catholic Church: Jesus' call to conversion and repentance, does not aim first at outward works, but at the conversion of the heart, interior conversion (1430).
